

StoryWorth

Responding to the Story Worth questions has been an amazing journey filled with forgotten recollections and wonderful memories. This really is a wonderful gift from us to our children and future generations. Through our books they will learn so much more about who we are and from where they came. We are so happy to be doing this. I just wish it would have been available for my parents.

-Cory Schneider

The cost for the weekly questions email and hard-cover book is currently $99. For more information and to receive a $10 discount click below:

You get a $10 discount and Women's League for Conservative Judaism gets a donation by using this link

StoryWorth.com is a wonderful way to enjoy memories and reflections and share them with future generations.

By signing up for one year of storytelling, you or a loved one (if you give a gift subscription) will receive a weekly question meant to stir up long-buried memories or unearth perspectives previously unknown. At the end of the year, the stories are collected into one hardcover book, complete with photos and captions (that can be included with the stories).

- Questions (that may be customized) are sent by email each week.
- The order of the stories can be changed
- Pictures and captions may be included
- Customized full-color hardcover designs are available
- Choose between black and white or color.
- Multiple copies for other family members can be ordered
- Each story as it is written may be sent via email to whoever you would like.

Questions? Contact:

Cory Schneider at cschneider@wlcj.org

